++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Remaining rather windy on Sunday but drier.

This Evening and Tonight:
Rain over Devon and Cornwall will move eastwards weakening as it does, to become confined to the east of the region by dawn. Clearer spells with showers developing further west. Remaining breezy through the evening. Milder than previous nights. Minimum temperature 9 deg C (48 deg F).

Sunday:
Winds strengthening again, especially in the west. Early light rain and drizzle in the west clears eastwards during the morning, leaving brightening skies and isolated showers during the afternoon. Maximum temperature 16 deg C (61 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Nights become milder but remaining unsettled and windy at times. Some sunshine, although organised bands of showers merging into longer spells of rain at times too.
